

Bio-Dry will be launching its newest product designed specifically for dried food grease and has successfully used at one of the nations best known NFL stadium to clean their food service stands. This latest addition to the line of products has proven to be a home run success in its ease of application and green initiative. The extremely friendly microbe technology and its no harsh chemical constituents actually help the drain pipes in the stadium stay clean and free from build up. Look for it soon on our web site www.bio-dry.com